Books connect the world

The cultural excitement and the quality of the offer represented by Italian independent publishers has allowed them to reach a share of about 50% in the book market.

The new, decisive Law for Books and Reading – that safeguards both bibliodiversity and the market – which the Senate unanimously approved in 2020, after ten years of hard work, is due to the determination of independent publishers and booksellers Associations, together with a Cultural Ministry sensitive to the needs of one of culture's economic pillars.

ADEI – Associazione degli Editori indipendenti italiani i.e. Association of Italian Independent Publishers – represents about 250 independent publishers, some Regional Associations, and is the promoter of an important independent book fair that takes place both in Milan and Genoa.

This first international catalogue, put together for the 2022 Bologna Children's Book Fair, is a further signal of the liveliness and variety of ideas, projects, and colours of the Italian 'indie' World.

It marks an important step towards openness to debate not only among publishers, but also with book organizations, associations, and book events all around the World.

In such a delicate moment for international relations, we think this represents both a concrete instrument and a positive emblem of cultural exchange and friendship.

HOW TO NAVIGATE IN THE ONLINE CATALOGUE

By clicking on one of the categories listed below you will have access to the interactive catalogue where you can refine your search at your leisure.

The cross-selection of one or more categories and/or one or more themes will automatically generate a selection of titles that match the chosen characteristics. You can also use keywords by entering them in the "free text".

Both the categories and the themes have been chosen with particular attention to the trends found in the editorial productions of recent years; for example, in the categories you will find the "hybrid text" (fiction-nonfiction) or the "audiobook", and among the themes "social inequalities" or "LGBTQ+". Then clicking on the "+" symbol, in the upper left of the individual covers, you can access the complete page that also contains the link to the publisher's website, where you can view the entire catalogue.

Once the search is complete you can print it on paper or in .pdf, or save it in .csv format by clicking on one of the buttons below.

FAIRY TALES ZOOLOGY

In a publishing scene like the Italian one, characterised by a remarkable liveliness of independent publishing, independent publishers for children and young people are perhaps the most dynamic and innovative part.

From a quick glance at the lists of winners and finalists of the Italian literary prizes dedicated to children, we can see that well over half of the award-winning books are published by independent publishers - sometimes small and often specialist - who have made the quality of their publications a distinctive feature and a major strength.

Most of these publishers find a familiar environment in the Bologna Children's Book Fair, where they can exhibit their new titles and the most significant ones in their backlists.

With this catalogue, ADEI is proud to present a small but noteworthy extract of the recent independent production for children in Italy. Two titles for each publishing house are a small showcase, but we hope that this will help to introduce the publishing houses and stimulate the curiosity that leads to further exploration and closer contact. We also hope to pleasantly surprise our colleagues from other nations and establish mutually collaborative relations with them.

THE SILENT EDGE: IL GIOCO DEL RE BIANCO (VOL. 3)

Malvisi - Ivaldi - Giacchi -Bello

illustrator Ilenia Gennari

800 pages mm. 170x240 25,00 euro ISBN 9788832298253

Novel, Young adults Adventure, Dystopia, Fantasy

Four young Italian writers have built an entire post-apocalyptic world. The Silent Edge saga is populated by fascinating, conflicted characters on a mission. Vols. 1-3 (Il ranger del deserto, Liberi in ogni terra, Il gioco del re bianco) take readers on a dystopian adventure full of shocking twists, flashbacks, steampunk imagery, cutting dialogue and humour as our anti-heroes - Gin, Elias, Milo, Maud and co - fight using magic, alchemy and their wits to combat evil and save a world on the edge of destruction. Coming soon: Vol. 4, the last in the first cycle of the saga.

CAMERETTE UN ROMANZO (ROSA) A FUMETTI

Frita

illustrator Frita

164 pages mm. 170x240 15,00 euro ISBN 9791280741011

Young adults, Comics and Graphic Novels Family and emotional relationships, Family sagas, Sexuality

Frita takes the ingredients of our 'worst days ever' and shakes them up, orchestrating a magnificent disaster in which each character finds their way back to their own room.

Parents, children, friends and lovers, all lost in a whirl of interactions. A whole raft of spectacular failures is in store. What can we learn by observing these emotional trainwrecks from a different perspective? Are there embers burning beneath the ash of blunders and betrayals? Camerette ("Kids' rooms") reveals the authenticity of feelings hidden beneath the apparent hypocrisy of contemporary affective relationships.

36 pages mm. 140 x 210 12,50 euro ISBN 9788865642436

Children 7-11, Picture Book Tales, Illustration, Creative writing

Kastanka is a little dog with red fur and a fox face that has lost its owner. After spending a frightening night in the street, a kind man, who turns out to be a clown, collects her and after renaming her "Auntie", takes her in the house he shares with a goose, a white cat and a piglet, who are all actors in a circus. Kastanka begins to learn tricks and games, but the novelty of her new life is tempered by nostalgia for her first home. The night of Kastanka's debut she recognizes her original owner in the audience and knows she must choose her destiny. From a story by Anton Chekhov.

MY FIRST DOSTOEVSKIJ. THE CROCODILE, AN EXTRAORDINARY CASE

Fëdor Dostoevskij

translator Mauro Di Leo illustrator Strambetty

36 pages mm. 140 x 210 12,50 euro ISBN 9788865642252

Picture Book
Tales, Illustration,
Creative writing

What happens if a big crocodile gets teased by a gentleman who wants to see if it's real or made of stone just because it stands too still? The poor animal, a little irritated at having been awakened from his nap, opens his mouth and eats the man in one bite. The great Russian writer Fyodor Dostoyevsky tells a moral story of a drunkard, a terrible "I-know-better" man who ends up in the belly of a crocodile. In "Il mio primo Dostoevskij", the narrator Mauro Di Leo and the artist Elisabetta Barbaglia, aka Strambetty, adapt a novel by a giant of literature.

LA CASA DEI SUONI

Claudio Abbado illustrator Paolo Cardoni

48 pages mm. 220 x 280 16,00 euro ISBN 9788883621505

Non-fiction, Children 7-11 Autobiographies, letters and memoirs, Music

Claudio Abbado has a truly unique role in this book: he tells kids, starting from his own story, about his passion for music and he explains with simplicity and clarity not only which instruments make up an orchestra and which families they belong to, but also what is the so-called "musical writing", a precise language that is divided into chamber, symphonic and lyric music. The world of music is a mosaic of tiles that must be composed by a director, the conductor who reads and listens to music, who can interpret it and finally who can sublimate it in a beautiful masterpiece.

MILANO MILLESTORIE

Patrizia Zelioli illustrator Giulia Orecchio

192 pages mm. 200 x 200 16,50 euro ISBN 9788883623363

Non-fiction, Travel guide Popular cultures, Tourism and guides

A book about the city of Milan that is truly special because it makes the city known, for the first time, through its stories: stories of people who have lived in Milan and stories related to monuments and palaces. The guide is divided into seven chapters corresponding to seven "paths of discovery" which, starting from the ancient access gates to the city, reach the main cathedral. For each area of Milan, the children will follow a path described through words, photographs and illustrations to immerse themselves in the present and in the past of the city.

Besa Muci focus on literary issues neglected by mainstream publishing circles: the anguish of the Balkans, the multi-ethnic melting pot of the Mediterranean, the transnational radiance of the Hispanic world.

FIFOFUS AND THE RED INDIANS

Norman Mommens

translator Aldo Magagnino illustrator Norman Mommens

36 pages mm. 190 x 250 15,00 euro ISBN 9788836291458

Children 7-11, Picture Book Animals, Adventure, Humor

Fifofus is a very curious mountain lion. When he meets a Native American reservation, he develops the desire to walk on two legs like humans do. But it doesn't turn out to be easy at all. It will be the courage shown against the unpleasant cowboy Gambadicuoio to defend the little ones. Native Americans teach him how to do it.

CINQUE MINUTI FIVE MINUTES TO SEA

Natalia Mirzoyan translator Tatiana Pepe

32 pages mm. 240 x 250 15,90 euro ISBN 9788867291192

Children 0-6, Picture Book Cinema, radio and television, video art, Illustration, Sea

"Cinque minuti" is an original Caissa Italia production based on the multi award-winning short animation film "Five Minutes to Sea" by Armenian-born Russian director Natalia Mirzoyan (https://vimeo.com/468976307). The picture book became an award-winner at the 2021 Image of the Book Competition in the "Original Picture Book" category. A girl is asked to refrain from bathing for 5 minutes. Is this a long time? Or a short one? And how does it compare with 5 minutes in the life of old Moses and Sarah? A magnificently illustrated, poetical, moving story on the perception of time and the stages of life.

GIOCHIAMO A SCACCHI

Yuri Garrett illustrator Marcello Carriero

96+6 pages mm. 210 x 210 11,90 euro ISBN 9788867291014

Non-fiction, Children 7-11 Games, Hobbies and free time, Sport

This is one of the very few chess books for children that was originally thought of and illustrated for children: the author is a chess player and the illustrator a former Disney collaborator. Crucially, the main editor was 8 years old, and when she did not understand, author and illustrator would revise their concept.

The result is a book in its own league that teaches the rules of chess to children in their own language and imagery. The final part of this 100-page book is aimed at parents so that they may share this amazing journey with their children.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF MY IMAGINARY FRIENDS

Bimba Landmann

illustrator Bimba Landmann

64 pages mm. 270 x 330 22,00 euro ISBN 9791280014436

Children 0-6, Picture book without words Illustration

How is it that an imaginary friend comes into your life? A fantastic journey to discover the infinite varieties of imaginary friends, in all of the forms they can take, a journey inside the realm of creativity. And once you've found your true friend, the journey is not over: you have to feed them, to give them a house, to take care of them and spend time together, as friends do...

A new dreamy picture book about the power of imagination, from the creator of the bestseller MAPS OF MY EMOTIONS.

Rights sold: ENGLISH (World), SIMPLIFIED CHINESE, ROMANIAN.

LITTLE PANTHER

Chiara Raineri illustrator Chiara Raineri

40 pages mm. 220 x 220 16,00 euro ISBN 9791280014825

Children 0-6, Picture Book Illustration

A sweet picture book that plays with surprise: each page doubles with the flap, associating an adjective with which the mother describes shapes, colors, flavors, aromas. Like a baby discovering the outside world, Little Panther compares what surrounds her with what she knows best, her mom. A cloud is soft like mom, the fruit is sweet like mom...

In the end, Little Panther hugs her soft, sweet and strong mom, like a child after she has made her first timid attempts to approach the outside world, and then returns to the comforting maternal embrace.

Rights sold: FRENCH (World).

THE MAGIC OF STRANGE DAY

Alessandra Celentano illustrator Susanna Lunadei

33 pages ebook 1,99 euro ISBN 9788888805399

Short Stories, Children 7-11 Animals, Tales, Family and emotional relationships

A big red cat sets off in search of lost Normality, which has disappeared along with the dreams of his owners Lollo and Camilla, who have been forced for a long time now - due to a certain Coronavirus - to stay at home, to stop playing with their friends and to stop hugging their grandparents. But where will Normality ever be? Who will be able to make things go back to the way they were? And most importantly, when?

A delicate tale for children, but also a story to help us adults not be consumed by discouragement, to open doors that allow a glimpse of something different, far from pessimism.

VOLO VEDO VIVO. A GIRL, AN AIRPLANE AND THEIR WORLD

Carolina Dellonte illustrator Silvia Bettini

144 pages mm. 148 x 210 12,00 euro ISBN 9788888805276

Short Stories, Hybrid Tales, Family and emotional relationships, Travel and places

Airport, airplane, atmosphere, hotel and elevator: five "non-places" that seem to have nothing exceptional about them. But the author, an airplane pilot for many years, has lived through them, and in these pages, she makes you discover their unexpected vital breath. And from now on, you cannot help but see them with different eyes. Because it's there that our soul has fought, it's there that, if listened to, it has spoken to us of beauty and energy, even in places that seem obvious, but that are still accomplices of our victories and defeats, joys and fears.

FEBE AND CATS STEALING STORIES

Elisa Campaci illustrator Roberta Procacci

160 pages mm. 140x190 12,90 euro ISBN 9788899207519

Novel, Children 7-11 Family and emotional relationships, Creative writing

Finding the right story is like catching a cat! Will it really be like that? Febe doubts it, but when the paper on which she wrote her first story is stolen by a cat, she begins to change her mind...

Febe Cipriani is twelve years old and very angry. In fact, she has discovered that there are some things she just can't change, like the arrival of a little sister and a mother who is no longer around because of the new arrival. However, her mom has given her a mission: to invent stories for her newborn sister.

KINDNESS IS MY SUPERPOWER

Giulia Ceccarni
illustrator Giulia Ceccarni

64 pages mm. 160x230 12,90 euro ISBN 9788899207403

Children 7-11, Picture Book Ecology, environment and protection of the planet, Family and emotional relationships

A modern tale about the power of kindness and the importance of words.

Mattia and his grandfather love nature and every Sunday go to the park hand in hand. Around them, however, the city becomes increasingly gray.

Are all good things meant to disappear?

A journey in search of the meaning of the word "kindness" will bring Mattia to find his superpower and to discover the secret of giving birth to something surprising from a trampled flower, something that will make everyone's world better.

"Grandpa, what is kindness?"

"Do you not know? Kindness is a superpower!"

There is an island that birds call "The Island of Salvation" because it's the place where they can find food and rest, and care and protection from hunters. On that island, which humans call Capri, lives a tall man, with a moustache and two circles around his eyes. He comes from the far North; he too migrated, like the creatures he welcomes season after season in the park of his villa and on the mountain he bought for them. The birds are storytellers that tell us his story: the story of a doctor, a veterinarian, a great traveler, a writer, an incurable idealist, a dreamer.

Children 7-11, Picture Book Cinema, radio and television, video art, Family and emotional relationships

Lolita lives with a child, Totò, in La Bolla, an abandoned building on the outskirts of Milan. One day, Totò ventures into a supermarket. Wandering through the aisles, he finds a wall of candies and picks up a red bag. But when he makes toward the exit, a security guard grabs him. The police come. The dwellers of La Bolla rush to help Lolita and Totò. Suddenly, the loud voices die down and the blue flashing lights go out. La Bolla begins to float above the town, up to the slender spires of the Cathedral, swinging like an immense and glowing ball, with all its occupants inside. A miracle.

PERLAPAROLA. CHILDRENS IN THE ROOMS OF POETRY

Chiara Carminati

158 pages mm. 205x140 15,00 euro ISBN 9788894514018

Poetry, Handbook Didactics, Creative writing, School

This book is intended to be an instrument to foster poetry, a collection of suggestions to ignite the spark and ideas to feed the flame. It is aimed at those who, by passion or profession, take care of children, with the idea that poetry is the most powerful means to explore the resources of language and that the very acquisition of these resources is crucial for the construction of a creative personality and the expression of free thought. A tribute to the belief that passion for poetry starts, more than anything else, from love and enthusiasm for the word ("per-la-parola").

44 pages mm. 120x210 8,50 euro ISBN 9788893720892

Short Stories, Children 7-11 Cultural heritage, Tales, Family and emotional relationships

Matteo, a child that we would define as "lucky", is used to having the best: his parents are convinced that training him in luxury and surrounding him with friends from a certain social class will favour him in the future. Nor does Matteo have occasion to reflect on all this, until he finds in an abandoned stable, next to the statues of the crib, the diary of Rosina, his peer who lived years before. She tells of the simple and poor life of the countryside, of the hardships and genuine joys. The discovery opens Matteo's eyes, leading him and then his family on the path of sharing.

ROCCO THE TAWNY OWL AND ALFONSINO THE MOUSE, FRIENDS FOR LIFE

Roberto Russo illustrator Anna Fogarolo

28 pages mm. 205x205 11,90 euro ISBN 9788893721073

Children 0-6, Picture Book Animals, Inclusion, Family and emotional relationships

Rocco is a little owl and his best friend is Alfonsino the mouse, who lives in the same big tree as Rocco. This is a picture book and is a great story for learning to read. The text is written in capital letters and is perfect for first reading. Moreover, thanks to the soft drawings it helps to better understand the story being told. The book is printed on rough (and ecological) paper so that children can color and draw every single page.

165 pages mm. 210x150 14,00 euro ISBN 9788832009613

Non-fiction, Young adults Didactics, Pedagogy, Family and emotional relationships

What does it mean for a person to become a man? Get taller, stronger, have more freedom, hang out with friends, take on new responsibilities, flirt. But, above all, it means change. This book aims to clearly answer many questions that children, in this phase of transition, often do not want to ask their adults. The book is organized by topics ranging from socialization to sentimental and sexual education, to eating disorders, to cyberbullying, to cultural relativism. The language is direct and explicit, the layout specifically designed to be easily usable by pre-adolescent readers.

Children 7-11, Audio book Family and emotional relationships

For Maddalena there are a lot of heavenly things: Portugal, the music of Madredeus, going out with Dani and Vale. But the most heavenly thing of all, for her, is Fabrizio Fiorini. Fabrizio is kind, polite, shy, and that girl who looks at him and talks to him is heavenly for him too. The problem is that he doesn't feel so celestial... Ivano, known as Lama, is Maddalena's brother and is always annoyed, grumpy and cynical. And yet, he too has an unsuspected vein of celestiality. Francesca Bonafini tells the story of adolescence, that period of life when everything seems exaggerated.

QUANDO UN BOCCIOLO SI SENTE GEMMA

Elena Marchesini

132 pages mm. 169,9x244,1 10,00 euro ISBN 9788893641777

Children 0-6, Children 7-11 Social inequalities, Pedagogy, Family and emotional relationships

The book deals, in a delicate way, with the issue of gender variance from the point of view of the child who experiences it.

It is the story of a little boy who is born Bud but feels like Gemma. Using the metaphor of the world of flowers and nature, one enters the heart and mind of this shoot that begins a path of reconstruction of its identity in self-respect. Each character he meets on his path arrives at the right time to give a lesson, stimulate reflection, listen to an outlet.

SCHOOL IS OVER!

Raffaella Polverini

184 pages mm. 130x195 10,00 euro ISBN 9788896411421

Novel, Young adults Family and emotional relationships, School

The class was buzzing with excitement. Reading the autobiography of one of their teachers was a wonderful novelty. Who knows how much they could have discovered, how many secrets, what unexpected truths! Waiting longer had become unbearable. Verri had grasped all this and hoped that the students could grasp something more in addition to curiosity. Of course, they couldn't understand now - it was too early - but he was sure that some, certainly not all, would get there. It was a risk, probably, to open a window into his private life, even if it was fictionalized but it would be worth it.

"What is a sigh made of?" Mom's sigh is made of worries and tiredness, but little ones don't know what it's about, otherwise they would be... big! What can they do then to make this sigh lighter? And what can daddy do? This volume stems from the need to tell the story of the affection between children and their parents through images, allowing, as is the artist's custom, the few words associated with the evocative power of images to communicate the profound sense of this relationship. The eleven illustrations of this work tell of small and essential emotions that are waiting to be discovered.

We believe in Italian fiction and we give voice to Italian authors. We offer the reader new stories and new points of view, and the discovery that exciting events can also take place in Prato or Ancona.

Novel, Boys 12-15 Mysteries, thrillers, horror

There is an initiation ceremony to be accepted by the group. The Cobra, the undisputed leader of a gang of minors, has been clear and Elia cannot hold back. He has to jump on the balcony of an elderly woman who lives alone at night and terrify her to the point that the next morning the police will find her body at the foot of the bed, lifeless. The police and the press focus their attention on the pack of boys and girls who have been carrying out urban guerilla raids for some time, insulting, frightening and attacking people.

Elia's father does not suspect that his son is part of the gang.

Novel, Boys 12-15 Mysteries, thrillers, horror

The holidays at his paternal grandmother's house in the little town of Lunamadre, embedded on the southern island between the sea, the hills and the countryside, are one of Lorenzo's most longed for moments. It's a long-awaited occasion which in his eyes is a trip into an earthly paradise, a world frozen in time and framed perfectly. Yet, in his 14-year-old's summer, Lorenzo doesn't know that together with his three friends, Filippo, Carlo and Maria, he will face an evil hidden for a long time in the corners of the little town, a secret evil nobody wants to talk about. Weird things start to happen.

From the window of his house he could see a beautiful garden with a magnificent olive tree. So it was until men with guns came to build a huge gray wall. From that moment on, no boy and no girl would be able to chase each other or throw the ball in the place where they were born. This, at least, was what the men with guns believed but... have you ever tried to make a boy or girl sit still? Not even all the guns in the world can do it! Thus it happens that that huge wall begins to crumble. And if Salam and his pals regain a space to play in, the whole world will rejoice in a new season of peace.

Children 7-11, Picture Book Social inequalities

Francesco is a very curious and sensitive child. After tidying up his bedroom he decides to put in order the things that, in the world, appear upside down to him. He tries to do that through a role-playing game, teaching those he meets on his way the beauty and innocence of the game.

A story that speaks of injustice and intimidation, but which, through the change of perspective, succeeds in repairing the upside-down world.

We give space to stories written by pens who can use words as the painter uses brushes. Stories that come straight to the mind and heart. Because good stories are powerful and can change the world.

Fairy tales have survived for millennia, been told from generation to generation, beyond the space and time in which they arose, and have traveled and crossed borders wherever there were communities prepared to listen to them and to accept their most profound meaning. Through the fantastic form, these narratives have conveyed an archaic wisdom – the result of the experiences practised by humanity in its complex struggle to survive: men and women of all times have found answers to their doubts, questions and problems that for centuries gripped their destinies and were solved with creative and adventurous keys.

How was the difference presented to the new generations in the long process of building a national identity? How have the rules of the adult world shaped children's literature since its origins? The book puts forward a short journey through various texts of the 19th and 20th centuries, to better understand the perception and representation, in particular, of the foreigner, of the "different", and how children's books - whether they are school or entertainment - were instructive and educational tools also aimed at controlling and steering.

What would our life be without colours? Each colour has infinite shades and represents a discovery, a state of mind, an adventure, a memory, an experience. So what if the colours disappeared? But colours cannot disappear by themselves; perhaps there is someone who has stolen them. Let's look for them together - maybe they are where we expect them to be, or maybe not. Eventually, perhaps we will also find the thief who stole them, and perhaps it is none other than our fear of seeing everything in black and white.

But where are the desires? In what part of our body? This is the question posed by an elegant ostrich. Her animal friends answer her with pleasant theories, each driven by the desire she holds dearest. This opens up a discussion that uses the body as an emotional territory, an atlas of one's desires. A journey into the imagination, in search of an answer, a first approach to question oneself and focus on one's desires: fundamental ingredients for cultivating happiness and learning to know each other. A book that can last indefinitely.

One day the hen laid a black egg.

No one wanted to buy it, so the peasant gave it to the king. The queen has to brood it in her chest, said the hen. And so she did, until a little rooster came out.

But the rooster was very annoying and no one in the castle could stand his cock-a-doodle-do anymore! What should the king do?

Inspired by Luigi Capuana's fairytale, this is a lovely picture book that exalts the pride of being different.
